TAFIT KNOWS BRIDGEPORT IS HOME OF DOOLAN

Enos and Marigold Meet President in Washington and are Warmly Greeted.

Bridgeport! Why that is the home of my friend Doolan! That is what President Taft said when President Enos of the Board of Trade and Postmaster Marigold told William Howard, where they hailed from. The president will always have a warm spot in his heart for this city. Anyone who knows Sheriff Taft's deputy will get a cordial welcome from him.

The postmaster and the Board of Trade's president came back last night after spending three days at the capital. It was last Saturday they were greeted by President Enos, Congressman E. J. Hill of Norwalk and Sunday afternoon they were the guests of Baron Kogoro Takahira, the M. Kado's ambassador in this country.

Saturday night they were guests at the Associated Clubs where Joe Cannon, the boss of the house of representatives was the principal speaker. Before leaving Washington the Board of Trade received assurances that Baron Takahira, and Admiral Sperry would be speakers at the coming banquet of the Board of Trade. Admiral Sperry took the battleship around the world from San Francisco.

JOHN TODD OF REDDING DIES AT AGE OF 78

Succumbs to Attack of Pneumonia—Held Many Town Offices.

(Special from United Press.) Redding, March 31.—After an illness of about a week, John Todd, aged 78, a prominent and wealthy resident of this town died today of pneumonia. Mr. Todd held a number of town offices and was twice elected as representative to the state legislature in 1889 and 1894. He was for many years head of the Todd Lumber Company which later sold out to the trust.

MR. ERICSON'S OLD HOUSE.

Go see it, it's a beauty. It stands out among all its neighbors and because the coloring is so bright and clear. Mr. Ericson painted with L. & M. Paint and says it cost 1-3 less than ever before. He bought only 12 gallons of L. & M. Paint and 9 gallons of Linseed Oil to mix with it. This made 21 gallons of pure paint, and cost only $1.20 per gallon. It's as handsome as the finest in town. The L. & M. is sold by Harry Rider, Bridgeport, Ct.; Northrop Bros., Southport; D. N. Clark, Shelton; T. F. Terry & Son, Ansonia; M. Gregory & Son, Milford.

Robert Davies, formerly of this city, but now of Ansonia, died in that city Monday after a stroke of paralysis. Up to a year ago Mr. Davies was a resident of this city. It was known in June 1897 that he suffered his first stroke of paralysis which made such inroads on his vitality that he had no strength left to fight the second attack. BLUE RIBBONS PLAY LAST GAME TONIGHT

(By Dick Barrett.)

The Blue Ribbons basketball team will play their last game to-night at their hall at 9:30. They will play the Rossett Five of Derby which is one of the strongest teams they ever played, and it will be an exciting game when those big fellows come down to face Burdick and his four other brothers. There will be nothing but a grass spot on some one's back so Lush wants to look out for these big fellows, for they are fast and have a little more ginger in them than Burdick. Its too bad the team cannot play any longer, but the players are going to work in different towns and the season is nearly over and it isn't worth while finishing it, so their last game will be to-night and a good game is expected.

REV. MR. SANFORD COMING TO ST. GEORGE'S PARISH

He Has Served in Pulpits in Far West and Has Done Good Work in Eastern Churches.

The Rev. F. R. Sanford of Christ church, Guilford, Conn., will come to Bridgeport to take charge of the parish of St. George's in the West End, May 2. Once before St. George's extended a call to Mr. Sanford, at the time of Rev. B. Robinson's resignation, but he was unable at that time to accept the charge owing to ill health.

Mr. Sanford comes of an old Connecticut family, being the ninth, in direct descent, of one of the original founders and proprietors of Milford, Thomas Sanford. He was born in Waterbury, His secular education he received at Yale; his theological training at Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, under Bishop Williams.

After his ordination as deacon by Bishop Williams, he took the curacy of St. Paul's church, Norwalk. This position he resigned after ordination to the priesthood, to accept the rectorship of St. James' church, Westville, New Haven. While holding this latter charge he married Miss Fanny W. Bailey, of Norwalk. For three years Mr. Sanford held the curacy of St. John's, He then came to Bridgeport, where he was called to the rectorship of St. John's Warehouse Point. In the winter of 1888 he was forced, through ill health, to resign St. John's. He journeyed to Southern California and there sought to recuperate his health. The invigorating climate restoring his strength, he began mission work in Ventura county, Cal., and in the city of San Buena Ventura established a mission which has since grown into the parish of St. Paul's.

With health and strength fully restored, Mr. Sanford next accepted the call of St. Peter's church, Carson City, Nevada. By the missionary district of Nevada and Utah he was ordained and sent as clerical deputy to the General Convention in 1889. Wishing to return to the East, near his home, Mr. Sanford now resigned, after a labor of three years, his work in Nevada, and accepted the rectorship of St. Matthew's church, Bloomington, Ill. In 1899 an opportunity to return to Connecticut was offered him by the call of St. Peter's church, Riverside. He accepted and held until 1904, when a bigger work in a larger field offering itself in the call of Grace church, New Haven, Mr. Sanford again moved, and labored in his new field for nearly five years, doing good work, clearing off a heavy indebtedness from the church, establishing a vested choir, and instituting other improvements.

After five years, ending last, Mr. Sanford resigned his charge of Grace church, and while recuperating, took charge of the Lynn Mission, in 1905. He was called to St. John's church, North Haven, which was accepted. In 1906 Mr. Sanford received a hard blow in the death of his wife. About five months after her death he accepted his present incumbency, Christ church, Guilford.

Seen from the foregoing that Rev. F. R. Sanford does not come to St. George's without experience which fits him for the work of building up St. George's parish.

FELL THROUGH A SIGNAL TOWER

Byfield Walked Six Miles to Bridgeport With a Deep Wound in His Head.

John Byfield, 498 Hollister avenue, jumped from a freight at Naugatuck Junction, last night, and took shelter in the Lynn Mission, in 1905. He received a deep cut in the head. He fell through a hole in the floor to the ground beneath, receiving a deep cut in the head. He was seen from the emergency hospital this morning and Dr. Krause closed the wound with a dozen stitches. Byfield had been taking a little pleasure in an unoccupied signal tower to get a little sleep. He fell through a hole in the floor to the ground beneath, receiving a deep cut in the head. NO FOUR YEARS TERM FOR CLERKS

(By Our Staff Correspondent.)

Hartford, March 31.—The bill making the term of office of town clerk four years instead of two was rejected in the House to-day.

INTERFERED WITH AMBULANCE SURGEON

The wisdom of appointing the chauffeur of the auto-ambulance a special policeman was demonstrated yesterday when the ambulance with Dr. Krause in charge was called to the home of Mary Dempsey, 17 years old, 461 Fop street, where the girl had taken carbolic acid with suicidal intent. The mother of the girl, the neighbors and friends, frantic with grief at the mad act of the girl and also excited beyond all control, seriously interfered with the work of the surgeon and almost defeated his efforts to save the life of his charge.

For evening wraps.

Chamois broadcloth, a distinctly new and rich fabric, is richest textile in many a day for an evening wrap.

Its fine smooth and deeply brilliant surface is alluring. Its color, the hue of chamois, harmonizes with one's evening gown, no matter what the color of that gown may be. It is not a trying shade. Instead, is singularly handsome.

$2 a yard.

Left aisle, rear.

Shower-proof foulards of novel pattern.

There is distinct novelty to these new shower-proof foulards.

Their colors are out of the ordinary. Their patterns are decisively new and very attractive.

For illustration there are white stripes with blue or green rings scattered over them. There are plain rose shades with self dots. There are lacy stripes with elongated dots in white.

Those are but examples. Every liked color is included. And every pattern is delightful.

75 cents a yard.

Center aisle, rear.

Bronze belts.

Yes, there is said to be a coming vogue for bronze belts.

Attractive in their burnished finish. With gilt buckles. 50c and $1.

One-piece rugs.

Large rugs woven in one piece, and so without a seam, have one distinct advantage. They lie closely to the floor with absolutely no ridges upon their surface. This makes them wear better than the usual rug which is woven in sections and sewed together.

Here are seamless Wilton rugs of special beauty as well. They are in handsome patterns and colors. Those colors are bright and clear. They are so nicely woven, that the patterns are sharp and distinct.

Such rugs are both tasteful and serviceable. It is worth your while to inspect them.

Blue serge

Double-service suits

$5 to $8.50.

A boy can have no suit that will give more service than one of blue serge.

When that suit is a Howland Double-service suit, it will give even greater return for every penny put into it.

Howland Double-service suits of blue serge are good through and through. The serge they are made of is stout and yet fine. That serge is made up in the right way. Stitch after stitch fixes it firmly in place. It is shaped by experts. It has to be, for blue serge unless rightly handled will not "stay put."

This store's blue serge suits at $5 are made just as carefully and of just as good serge as is the usual store's $6.50 ones. The Boys' Shop believes it pays to do this. If it didn't pay we shouldn't do it. We are not making a big profit—but we are making lots of friends of boys and their parents. And that pays.

These blue serge suits are good enough for a boy to wear practically anywhere. They are inexpensive enough to be put on for ordinary wear. That is rather an unusual combination. But not an unusual one in this Boys' Shop.

Come and let the boy inspect such a suit. Let him slip it on. Then you will buy it—and make no mistake in doing it.

Weather Indications.

(Special from United Press.)

New Haven, March 31.—Forecast fair to-night and Thursday.

An extended area of high pressure over the central and western sections is producing cool, pleasant weather in all sections east of the Rocky Mountains. Freshing temperatures are reported as far south as Amarillo, Texas.

An attempt was made by two men to enter the founder of W. G. Rowland, 233 Water street, last night. The would-be burglars were discovered before they had gained entrance to the building, and ran away.
